Sept 2008

Customer says: Just a short feedback note to say that I had a very good experience in assigning the installation of the Corian tops for my house to your company. The workers that came to my house to do the installation were pleasant to deal with and work professionally. Working with your Product Executive was also a very good experience, as he was very careful to explain matters & deal with technical enquiries. He made the overall business of working with TSIM, a very good experience and I have since referred several enquiries to him. In terms of the product quality and post - installation, there have no problems and I hope that the product will continue to provide and last well.
